RAISE ONE-SIXTH OF G. O. P. CAMPAIGN FUND

ELECTION IS NOW ONLY 60 DAYS AWAY

3 LEADERS IN AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY GIVE $25,000 EACH

ARE W. C. DURANT, WALTER CHRYSLER AND ALFRED P. SLOAN, JR.

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Sept. 6.—The republican presidential campaign is rolling along with a safe surplus although only one-sixth of its $3,000,000 campaign budget so far has been subscribed.

Following publication of figures showing the financial condition of the national committee, headquarters sent out orders today calling field lieutenants' attention to the fact that the election is now only 60 days away and that contributions must be accelerated.

The figures showed $658,418 total receipts up to September 1, with expenditures of $312,216, leaving a balance of $346,202.

The reports revealed that the automobile industry is interested financially in the Hoover campaign as well as that of Gov. Smith. They listed 36 women contributors, more than have ever given big money in a presidential campaign before.

Ten men gave $25,000 each, including three leaders in the automobile industry—W. C. Durant, Walter Chrysler and Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., all of New York. The other seven largest contributors were George Eastman, Kodak manufacturer, Jeremiah Milbank, eastern treasurer of the republican national committee; E. F. Hutton, Ernest L. Woodward; Mortimer Schiff, banker, Walter H. Aldridge and Charles Hayden, all from New York state.

Even with this formidable list of contributors and the surplus, campaign directors are not entirely satisfied. Expenses have just begun. Five-sixths of the national budget remains to be raised and the party platform has promised there will be no deficit.

Hoover has dissociated himself entirely from the money-raising or spending angle of the campaign. His only restriction has been an order to his leaders that they must accept no sums from those who may expect returns from the government.

13TH BOMBING ATTRIBUTED TO KNITTING MILL STRIKE

Kenosha, Wis., Sept. 6.—(UP)—Mrs. Chaucery Pitts was severely injured and her home badly damaged by a bomb here late last night. It was the thirteenth bombing attributed to the knitting mill strike in progress here.

Mrs. Pitts was an inspector in the Allen A. Company's plant and was regarded as a strike-breaker by the locked out union workers.

Seven persons, including two women, were arrested yesterday for disorderly conduct. Two prisoners, Mertice Hudson and Amanda Rittmer, girl hunger strikers, started their eleventh day without food today.

A total of 493 arrests have been made since the strike began on Feb. 11.

7 Suspended Policemen Charged With Accepting Bribes for Protection

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 6.—(UP)—Seven suspended policemen charged by the government with accepting bribes for protection from bootleggers, were on trial here today in federal court.

Bill Lundy, former bootlegger, also under indictment, who "turned up" the policemen when he said their demands for payoff money became excessive, is the government's star witness.

The jury was chosen yesterday.

TRI-STATE WISHES TO ADD LINES

St. Paul, Sept. 6.—(UP)—The state railroad and warehouse commission today took under advisement the application of the Tri-State Telephone company to purchase majority stock of the Greenfield Farmers' Telegraph Co., which serves Wabasha, Kellogg and the surrounding territory.

Smith Opens Campaign in Heart of Wheat Belt

SOVIET REGIME TO ADHERE TO ANTI-WAR PACT

Moscow, Sept. 6.—(UP)—The Soviet government decided officially today to adhere to the Kellogg anti-war treaty.

Acting Foreign Minister M. M. Litvinoff transmitted to Jean Herbert, French ambassador, the Soviet's formal notice of adherence to the treaty.

BOMBING PLANES OF 2ND GROUP SEEK A RECORD

AIM TO FLY 1,600 MILES IN 48 HOURS, OVER HALF WAY ACROSS CONTINENT

MUST DO SO TO GET TO LOS ANGELES FOR OPENING OF NATIONAL AIR RACES

Shreveport, La., Sept. 6.—(UP)—Nine yellow-winged brown-bodied dragon flies of war, each sixty-four feet in span, set out today to fly in forty-eight hours sixteen hundred miles—more than half way across the continent.

The bombing planes of the second bombardment group expect to beat a record for travel in their huge transports in addition. They must do it in order to reach Los Angeles in time for the opening of the national air races Saturday and to comply with their "war orders" to mobilize on the west coast to repulse a theoretical threatening enemy fleet.

Today's mission as set by Major Hugh Kerr was to fly from Shreveport to El Paso, a distance of eight hundred miles. Tomorrow an attempt will be made to fly to San Diego, where the flyers can rest and take a short hop to Los Angeles Saturday.

Eight hundred miles in a two-engined, five-ton bombing plane compares with about three thousand miles in an easy-riding pursuit observation or passenger plane. And nine bombing planes flying in formation makes the pilot's delicate job of handling his bulky machine about twice as difficult.

Stops for fuel delayed the flight so long that it was decided to stop here overnight instead of Dallas, Texas, and resume the westward journey early this morning.

Shreveport, La., Sept. 6.—Heavily laden with gasoline for the longest jump of the trans-continental journey to Los Angeles, nine army bombing planes left here just before dawn today for Midland, Tex., 500 miles away.

The planes were expected to reach El Paso, Texas, today, making a record trip of 800 miles.

INVENTOR OF RADIUM PAINT IS SERIOUSLY ILL

East Orange, N. J., Sept. 6.—(UP)—Dr. Sabin A. Von Sochocky, inventor of radium paint, is seriously ill, members of his family say. Cause of the illness has not been made known.

In 1920 and 1921 he suffered from radium poisoning but said recently he had cleansed his body of the radioactive materials.

Dr. Von Sochocky was technical director of the Radium Luminous Materials corporation, which later became the United States Radium corporation. The corporation was sued by five women former employees who claimed they had been poisoned by radium paint.

2 KILLED WHEN AIRPLANE LOSES WING AND CRASHES

Cleveland, O., Sept. 6.—(UP)—George Stowell, of Detroit, veteran pilot for the Stout Air Service company, and J. C. Herriman, airport manager for the concern, were killed when their plane lost a wing and crashed from an altitude of 1,000 feet here this afternoon.

The Stout Co. operates a commercial line between Cleveland and Detroit.

The fatalities were the first at the airport since its establishment four years ago.

Herriman formerly lived in Greenville, S. C.

Frank Webb, San Francisco, Named Nominee for President by Farmer-Labor Committee

NAME TO BE PLACED BEFORE THE CONVENTION

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE NAMES SENATOR JAMES A. REED AS RUNNING MATE

UNDERSTOOD THAT WEBB'S ACCEPTANCE IS ALMOST CERTAIN

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 6.—(UP)—Frank Webb, of San Francisco, Calif., was elected as presidential nominee of the farmer-labor party by the executive committee of the party last night. His name will be placed before the party's convention today.

Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, was named as Webb's running mate.

Senator Reed was not at his home in Kansas City tonight and it could not be learned whether he would accept the vice-presidential nomination. It is understood that Webb's acceptance was almost certain.

The platform adopted by the committee favors ownership of public utilities by cities, counties and state; adequate farm relief, including protection to grain and cotton growers, by applying the principle underlying an equalization fee in some form and favors the enforcement of all laws with the strict enforcement of the 18th amendment and the Volstead act.

JOHN COOLIDGE MAY GO TO WORK MIDDLE OF MONTH

TO BE IN LOWLY CAPACITY IN AN ELECTRICAL SHOP

IS POSITION IN FIRM OPERATED BY GOVERNOR TRUMBULL

By ROBERT MOOREFIELD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Cedar Island Lodge, Wis., Sept. 6.—(UP)—John Coolidge may go to work in a lowly capacity in an electrical shop about the middle of September, it was learned from an authoritative source at the summer White House.

The president's son has accepted a position in the firm operated by Governor Trumbull of Connecticut. It was said. Foregoing the easy access he would have as the president's son to employment in an executive position, John's choice of a job is looked upon as indicating a desire to start at the bottom and learn the business from the ground up.

John is in the east. He is expected to be in New York when Governor Trumbull's daughter, Florence, arrived from Europe on Sept. 9. Before going to work, John is expected to accompany Miss Trumbull, to whom he is reported to be engaged, to the summer camp of her family in Maine.

Many persons attached to the president's staff believe the wedding of John and Florence will be held in the White House during the winter social season in Washington. Mrs. Coolidge is known to look with favor on the match.

NO MORE 'SPEED LIMIT 15 MILES'

St. Paul, Sept. 6.—(UP)—Motorists on Minnesota trunk highways will no longer be met at every crossroad village by the "speed limit 15 miles" signs.

C. M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, today ordered maintenance men to remove the warning boards from trunk roads.

The signs, Babcock said, increased rather than decreased accidents.

ALL STATE ASKED TO 'TUNE IN' ON WEDDING RITES

St. Paul, Sept. 6.—(UP)—All Minnesota was invited today to "tune in" on a wedding ceremony which will occur at 4 p. m. Friday in the observation balloon at the state fair.

Miss Dorothy June Landis and Archie A. Phillips, both of St. Paul, will be married by the Rev. W. K. Ekle, St. Anthony Park Union church, 1,000 feet in the air. Captain R. J. Walters, expert balloonist, will be the witness.

The ceremony will be broadcast by station KSTP and will be heard in the grandstand through microphones.

CHICAGO MAY MISS MOVIES VERY SOON

MUSICIANS' UNION AND MOVIE THEATRE OWNERS IN CONFERENCE

GROWING USE OF MECHANICAL MUSIC DEVICES CAUSES TROUBLE

Chicago, Sept. 6.—(UP)—A conference will be held here today to determine whether the nation's second largest city is to be without benefit of movies.

If no agreement is reached between the musicians' union and owners of a number of the movie theaters here, the threat is held that stage hands and motion picture operators will strike in sympathy with the musicians.

Meantime there were rumors that the strike might affect other cities of the country.

Following a conference here last night in which no agreement was reached, five houses in Davenport, Ia. and Rock Island and Moline, Ill., were said to be without musicians. A strike was rumored to be impending in New Orleans, La., and Houston, Texas.

Last year Minneapolis and St. Paul musicians, stage hands and operators struck following wage troubles.

The musicians' demands here are reputed to be based on the installation of mechanical music devices in an increasing number of theaters.

DULUTH, PIONEER AND FARM BUREAU DAY AT THE FAIR

ADDITIONAL THOUSANDS FROM NORTHERN MINNESOTA POUR THROUGH TURNSTILES

HARNESS AND RUNNING RACES FEATURE DAILY ENTERTAINMENT PROGRAM

St. Paul, Sept. 6.—(UP)—Additional thousands of persons from northern Minnesota today poured through the turnstiles to observe Duluth, pioneer and farm bureau day at the Minnesota state fair and Northwest Livestock show.

Members of the American Farm Bureau Federation were to hear talks by Mrs. H. O. Teller, Farmington, and Mrs. M. S. Winter, secretary of the organization, in their annual state fair meeting.

Pioneer residents of Minnesota were to have their day in attending meetings of the Minnesota Territorial Pioneer and Guild societies and the Minnesota Veteran Cavalry Association.

The daily entertainment program today featured harness and running races. The Duluth race, a free for all pace or trot for a $2,000 purse, was expected to be the classic of the state fair racing week.

Visitors were to continue their course of instruction in becoming "air minded" by watching exhibition flights by renowned world fliers.

Lieutenant Carl Ben Eielson, pilot of the Lockheed-Vega monoplane that carried him over the top of the world in a recent polar flight, and Captain Martin Jensen, pilot of the Aloha, trans-Pacific plane, were prepared to appear in their daily series of flights.

Four parachute jumpers vied for popularity with the fliers by their leaps from a giant captive balloon. Exhibitions of aircraft, including an engineless glider, attracted many persons.

The third performance of the horse show had an unfortunate ending last night when Pride of Erin, 24-year-old Irish jumper, fell under its owner, George A. Kingsley, Minneapolis, and fractured its leg. The audience was dismissed "out of respect to the horse" and the jumper was destroyed.

NAVY DEPARTMENT STOPS SEARCH FOR ROALD AMUNDSEN

Oslo, Norway, Sept. 6.—(UP)—The navy department decided today to discontinue the Arctic search for Roald Amundsen. The search along the Norwegian coast for further traces of his plane will be discontinued.

MYSTERY FLIGHT OF ASSOLANT AND LEFEVRE

VOYAGE HAS INCURRED DISPLEASURE OF FRENCH OFFICIALS

FLYERS' LEAVE OF ABSENCE, IT IS DECLARED, SOON TO BE WITHDRAWN

Paris, Sept. 6.—(UP)—The "mystery" flight of Jean Assolant and Rene Lefevre, young French army sergeants, has incurred the displeasure of French officials.

When they return from Casablanca in the plane in which they started from here on Tuesday, ostensibly to fly across the Atlantic, the flyers' leave of absence will be withdrawn, it was announced.

The press complained that the flyers intentionally misled the public, announcing their intention of flying the Atlantic via the Azores and Newfoundland, then making a simple non-stop flight to Casablanca. They collected, it was charged, 500,000 francs for expenses.

Paris, Sept. 6.—Adjutant Jean Assolant and Sergeant Rene Lefevre, who started this week on a trans-Atlantic attempt, are undecided now as to their future plans after being forced to turn back to Casablanca, Morocco, yesterday. It was learned last night that present visibility would make it impossible for them to fly to Rio De Janeiro at present.

R. H. INGERSOLL, DOLLAR WATCH MAN, DIES

BROUGHT REAL JOY TO THOUSANDS OF YOUNG AMERICANS

IN 1892 HE FIRST CONCEIVED IDEA OF MAKING CHEAP, DEPENDABLE TIMEPIECE

Denver, Colo., Sept. 6.—(UP)—Robert H. Ingersoll, the man who brought joy to thousands of young Americans through the medium of his dollar watch, is dead.

Ingersoll, who was 69 years old, died at a sanitarium here as a result of a 34-year illness which for many years confined him to his bed.

In 1892, Ingersoll, then a young inventor and proprietor of a rubber stamp manufacturing and mail order business conceived the idea of making a cheap but dependable timepiece.

Two years later when he had risen to a high position in the manufacturing field, his health failed.

In the 35 years the Ingersoll Company manufactured watches more than 80,000,000 of the timepieces were turned out. The majority of them finding their way into the pockets of young boys.

Ingersoll was born on a farm in Delta county, Missouri, and then when 20 years old went to New York City where he started his watch making career.

Ingersoll is survived by his two brothers, Charles H. and Arthur N. Ingersoll, both of New York.

TO ORDAIN BROTHER OF FORMER GOVERNOR

Minneapolis, Sept. 6.—(UP)—Preparations were completed here today for the ordination into the Lutheran ministry Sunday of Dr. Herman A. Preus, brother of former Governor J. O. A. Preus, and son of the late C. K. Preus, president of Luther college, Decorah. Dr. Preus will be ordained at Our Savior's Lutheran church where he will be installed some time next summer as pastor.

TO SPEAK AT OMAHA, NEB. ON SEPT. 18

SECOND SPEECH TO BE GIVEN IN OKLAHOMA CITY THURSDAY, SEPT. 20

ADDRESS AT DENVER SATURDAY SEPT. 22; THESE 3 ONLY ONES ANNOUNCED

By THOMAS L. STOKES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Albany, N. Y., Sept. 6.—(UP)—Governor Alfred E. Smith will open his speaking campaign in the heart of the wheat belt at Omaha, Nebraska, with a speech there the night of Tuesday, September 18, he announced today.

The preliminary itinerary calls for a second speech in Oklahoma City Thursday, September 20, to be followed by an address at Denver, Colo., Saturday, Sept. 22. These are the only speeches announced today.

Gov. Smith said he would remain on his first speaking tour for the following week, returning east to Rochester Sunday, Sept. 30, for the democratic state convention opening the next day. He is not ready to announce speeches during that week, he said.

It is probable the democratic candidate may proceed to the Pacific coast from Denver for a speech in California, but he said that had not been determined definitely.

The governor will leave here Sunday, Sept. 16, on his special campaign train for Omaha.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 6.—Gov. Alfred E. Smith, whose life was bounded for more than a quarter of a century by New York City and largely by the east side, will see the country really for the first time on the extended campaign trip being mapped out for him as democratic presidential candidate.

Except for fleeting excursions, Smith's whole life has been spent in his own state.

If elected, he will really visit Washington for the second time in his life. The governor attended a prohibition conference at the White House a few years ago on his only trip to the capital.

The democratic candidate has never been abroad. In this respect, his career is a contrast to that of his republican opponent, Herbert Hoover, who has lived for long periods of time in foreign countries.

The democratic candidate has given no indication as to whether he will take note of the "whispering campaign" against him, which is being met by party leaders and campaigners, most vigorously by his running mate, Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas.

Those who have followed Gov. Smith's state campaigns, in which similar "whisperings" have been practiced, expect him to meet this phase of the campaign in his characteristically vigorous way. He has done so frequently in the past. His friends say the "whispering campaigns" have reacted in his favor.

HASSELL AND CRAMER MAY GO TO DENMARK

Julianhaab, Greenland, Sept. 6.—(UP)—Bert Hassell and Parker D. Cramer, pilot and navigator of the airplane Greater Rockford, may go to Denmark before they return to the United States, it was indicated today.

They went by motor boat yesterday to Holstensborg, on the coast, where it is considered likely they may board a vessel that will take them to Denmark.

FLOOD WARNINGS FOR GEORGIA AND ALABAMA

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 6.—(UP)—Flood warnings for Georgia and eastern Alabama river valleys were issued today by C. F. Von Hermann, weather bureau forecaster here.

A tropical storm is moving northward from the Gulf of Mexico and will bring heavy rainfall in the southeast today and tomorrow, he said.

Shorewood Resolute twice Grand Champion at the National Dairy Show and one of the outstanding members of the Guernsey breed is attracting wide attention at the Minnesota State Fair where he is being shown in the J. C. Penney herd of Foremost Guernseys.

IN 1892 HE FIRST CONCEIVED IDEA OF MAKING CHEAP, DEPENDABLE TIMEPIECE

Denver, Colo., Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Robert H. Ingersoll, the man who brought joy to thousands of young Americans through the medium of his dollar watch, is dead.

Ingersoll, who was 69 years old, died at a sanitarium here as a result of a 34-year illness which for many years confined him to his bed.

In 1892, Ingersoll, then a young inventor and proprietor of a rubber stamp manufacturing and mail order business conceived the idea of making a cheap but dependable timepiece.

Two years later when he had risen to a high position in the manufacturing field, his health failed.

In the 35 years the Ingersoll Company manufactured watches more than 80,000,000 of the timepieces were turned out. The majority of them finding their way into the pockets of young boys.

Ingersoll was born on a farm in Delta county, Missouri, and then when 20 years old went to New York City where he started his watch making career.

Ingersoll is survived by his two brothers, Charles H. and Arthur N. Ingersoll, both of New York.

TO SPEAK AT OMAHA, NEB. ON SEPT. 18

SECOND SPEECH TO BE GIVEN IN OKLAHOMA CITY THURSDAY, SEPT. 20

ADDRESS AT DENVER SATURDAY SEPT. 22; THESE 3 ONLY ONES ANNOUNCED

By THOMAS L. STOKES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Albany, N. Y., Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Governor Alfred E. Smith will open his speaking campaign in the heart of the wheat belt at Omaha, Nebraska, with a speech there the night of Tuesday, September 18, he announced today.

The preliminary itinerary calls for a second speech in Oklahoma City Thursday, September 20, to be followed by an address at Denver, Colo., Saturday, Sept. 22. These are the only speeches announced today.

Gov. Smith said he would remain on his first speaking tour for the following week, returning east to Rochester Sunday, Sept. 30, for the democratic state convention opening the next day. He is not ready to announce speeches during that week, he said.

It is probable the democratic candidate may proceed to the Pacific coast from Denver for a speech in California, but he said that had not been determined definitely.

The governor will leave here Sunday, Sept. 16, on his special campaign train for Omaha.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 6.—Gov. Alfred E. Smith, whose life was bounded for more than a quarter of a century by New York City and largely by the east side, will see the country really for the first time on the extended campaign trip being mapped out for him as democratic presidential candidate.

Except for fleeting excursions, Smith's whole life has been spent in his own state.

If elected, he will really visit Washington for the second time in his life. The governor attended a prohibition conference at the White House a few years ago on his only trip to the capital.

The democratic candidate has never been abroad. In this respect, his career is a contrast to that of his republican opponent, Herbert Hoover, who has lived for long periods of time in foreign countries.

The democratic candidate has given no indication as to whether he will take note of the "whispering campaign" against him, which is being met by party leaders and campaigners, most vigorously by his running mate, Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas.

Those who have followed Gov. Smith's state campaigns, in which similar "whisperings" have been practiced, expect him to meet this phase of the campaign in his characteristically vigorous way. He has done so frequently in the past. His friends say the "whispering campaigns" have reacted in his favor.

Julianhaab, Greenland, Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Bert Hassell and Parker D. Cramer, pilot and navigator of the airplane Greater Rockford, may go to Denmark before they return to the United States, it was indicated today.

They went by motor boat yesterday to Holstensborg, on the coast, where it is considered likely they may board a vessel that will take them to Denmark.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Flood warnings for Georgia and eastern Alabama river valleys were issued today by C. F. Von Hermann, weather bureau forecaster here.

A tropical storm is moving northward from the Gulf of Mexico and will bring heavy rainfall in the southeast today and tomorrow, he said.

PROBLEMS OF AMATEURS IN SPORT LINES

EVERY line of sport appears to have a different conception as to what constitutes a simon pure amateur.

Robert Edgren, noted artist who uses his typewriter as well as his sketching pen, has a copyrighted article on amateur sports which brings up many matters for thoughtful consideration. Edgren says:

"I notice a funny thing about amateurs and the people who run amateur affairs. The amateur isn't supposed to be interested in money, but the business people who run amateur sports are always thinking up new ways to swell the gate receipts.

"In the Tilden case it might have been noticed that Tilden wasn't suspected of being a professional at heart until he began to lose tennis matches. As soon as he lost the first match he was under suspicion. When he made a fine rally and won a few games he was a perfectly pure amateur. But when he was defeated at Wimbledon and seemed to have hit the slide again, the tennis authorities decided immediately that no one could write about tennis the way he had been writing for several years without smudging his amateur standing. The exact letter of the rule Tilden is supposed to have violated prohibited a tennis player from writing any news account of a tournament in which he was playing. This might be sensible as a rule to prevent a player from publishing his own alibi and telling what cheese players the others were, but just why it should affect the 'amateur standing' of anyone is a puzzle.

"The Union for the Exploitation of Amateur Athletes isn't made up of athletes. It is a combination, partly business and partly political, for the control of amateur sport. Most of its officials hold political jobs in the City of New York, its headquarters. It's great to be a member of the union. Members draw salaries, most of them, and handle gate receipts and have liberal expenses paid and are allowed to wear badges with gilt medals on them. When the Olympic Games come along, every four years, they collect their friends and relatives and engage passage on the boat, expenses paid by the fund subscribed all over the country to send amateur athletes to the games. Sometimes there are so many officials and relatives on the boat that there isn't room or expense money enough for the athletes, and then a lot of potential point winners for America have to stay home. To leave the badge wearers behind would be unthinkable. They are in the organization that handles the money and the athletes have no votes anyway. Amateurism is a queer thing. It applies for the control of amateur athletes, but not to those in control, who can be as professional as they please.

"The professional amateur, who is just a job holder in the union or the committee, or what is it, can take money. The athlete under his control must take nothing at all but instructions.

"Some day amateur athletes will form their own organization for the control of their own sports, and throw out all the professional nonathletes who have been running their affairs for what's in it."

"SMALL TOWN STUFF"

You have heard the terms "small town stuff" applied to pretty nearly everything that is petty and mean, but did you ever stop to think just what small town stuff really is, says the Granite Falls Tribune.

There was a pretty good illustration of what small town stuff is composed of last Monday. A little four-year-old boy is suffering from a serious disease that needs prompt attention at the hand of specialists. A list was passed and enough money raised to assure the lad attention he is in need of. That's small town stuff.

When a couple is married there is a shower for the bride to present her with many useful things so dear to the housewife's heart; when a baby is born there is another shower for presents for the new youngster; when there is sickness in the family the neighbors and other friends can be relied on to do everything that is possible, and when there is a death in the family, people you barely know gather at the funeral to show their respect for the departed one. These things are peculiar to the small town—it's not big city stuff.

Don't ever be ashamed to say that you are from a small town for it's where nine times out of ten great men hail from. There is that in a small town which makes for greatness. It widens one, it develops in one friendly interest in others. The rush and hurry of a small town are not so great but what a person has time to think and to gain the proper perspective of the world about.

This "small town stuff," that they talk about, why, it's the stuff that makes life worth living—it's the very essence of life itself.—Levang's Weekly.

MINNESOTA'S OPPORTUNITY

If the Middle West is to get relief, it will have to go after relief. It will have to send achieving champions to Washington—go-getters who have the energy to go and the ability to get.

So far as the Presidential candidates are concerned, the choice of the Middle West between Hoover and Smith is beyond question. Mr. Hoover is a son of the Middle West, knows its needs, recognizes its requirements. He is a man of vision who sees the Country whole, and appreciates the necessity for giving the Middle West, as the great producing region, its proper and essential place. Among other things, he proposes to bring the seaboard into the Middle West by way of the Mississippi and by way of the Great Lakes.

Governor Smith, on the other hand, is by birth and breeding an Easterner of the East. Save for a single visit to Chicago, he has never been in the Middle West and does not know its people, its ideas or its needs. The sidewalks of New York mean more to him than the highways by land and water of this great region. He proposes to fasten upon us the commercial sovereignty of the East, to deny us exit by the St. Lawrence, to force us to continue paying tribute to Buffalo and New York.

The control of the Republican leadership, particularly in the Senate, is passing into Western hands. Western Senators head a majority of the great committees. The opportunity is at hand for the Middle West to redress its wrongs at Washington.

This situation cries aloud for efficient support from Minnesota.—Minneapolis Journal.

THERE are now a sufficient number of automobiles in America to permit every man, woman and child in the country to take an auto ride at the same time. And they seem to be doing it.—Stillwater Post-Messenger.

BRUSHED BY WAGON, SOLDIER BREAKS BACK AND FRACTURES LEG

Fort Snelling, Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—No change was reported in the condition of Private William Mescher, who suffered a broken back and fractured leg when he was crushed yesterday by a wagon. Plans to rush the soldier to Rochester in an airplane were abandoned when it was learned he could be adequately cared for at the fort hospital.

PROBLEMS OF AMATEURS IN SPORT LINES

EVERY line of sport appears to have a different conception as to what constitutes a simon pure amateur.

Robert Edgren, noted artist who uses his typewriter as well as his sketching pen, has a copyrighted article on amateur sports which brings up many matters for thoughtful consideration. Edgren says:

"I notice a funny thing about amateurs and the people who run amateur affairs. The amateur isn't supposed to be interested in money, but the business people who run amateur sports are always thinking up new ways to swell the gate receipts.

"In the Tilden case it might have been noticed that Tilden wasn't suspected of being a professional at heart until he began to lose tennis matches. As soon as he lost the first match he was under suspicion. When he made a fine rally and won a few games he was a perfectly pure amateur. But when he was defeated at Wimbledon and seemed to have hit the slide again, the tennis authorities decided immediately that no one could write about tennis the way he had been writing for several years without smudging his amateur standing. The exact letter of the rule Tilden is supposed to have violated prohibited a tennis player from writing any news account of a tournament in which he was playing. This might be sensible as a rule to prevent a player from publishing his own alibi and telling what cheese players the others were, but just why it should affect the 'amateur standing' of anyone is a puzzle.

"The Union for the Exploitation of Amateur Athletes isn't made up of athletes. It is a combination, partly business and partly political, for the control of amateur sport. Most of its officials hold political jobs in the City of New York, its headquarters. It's great to be a member of the union. Members draw salaries, most of them, and handle gate receipts and have liberal expenses paid and are allowed to wear badges with gilt medals on them. When the Olympic Games come along, every four years, they collect their friends and relatives and engage passage on the boat, expenses paid by the fund subscribed all over the country to send amateur athletes to the games. Sometimes there are so many officials and relatives on the boat that there isn't room or expense money enough for the athletes, and then a lot of potential point winners for America have to stay home. To leave the badge wearers behind would be unthinkable. They are in the organization that handles the money and the athletes have no votes anyway. Amateurism is a queer thing. It applies for the control of amateur athletes, but not to those in control, who can be as professional as they please.

"The professional amateur, who is just a job holder in the union or the committee, or what is it, can take money. The athlete under his control must take nothing at all but instructions.

"Some day amateur athletes will form their own organization for the control of their own sports, and throw out all the professional nonathletes who have been running their affairs for what's in it."

"SMALL TOWN STUFF"

You have heard the terms "small town stuff" applied to pretty nearly everything that is petty and mean, but did you ever stop to think just what small town stuff really is, says the Granite Falls Tribune.

There was a pretty good illustration of what small town stuff is composed of last Monday. A little four-year-old boy is suffering from a serious disease that needs prompt attention at the hand of specialists. A list was passed and enough money raised to assure the lad attention he is in need of. That's small town stuff.

When a couple is married there is a shower for the bride to present her with many useful things so dear to the housewife's heart; when a baby is born there is another shower for presents for the new youngster; when there is sickness in the family the neighbors and other friends can be relied on to do everything that is possible, and when there is a death in the family, people you barely know gather at the funeral to show their respect for the departed one. These things are peculiar to the small town—it's not big city stuff.

Don't ever be ashamed to say that you are from a small town for it's where nine times out of ten great men hail from. There is that in a small town which makes for greatness. It widens one, it develops in one friendly interest in others. The rush and hurry of a small town are not so great but what a person has time to think and to gain the proper perspective of the world about.

This "small town stuff," that they talk about, why, it's the stuff that makes life worth living—it's the very essence of life itself.—Levang's Weekly.

MINNESOTA'S OPPORTUNITY

If the Middle West is to get relief, it will have to go after relief. It will have to send achieving champions to Washington—go-getters who have the energy to go and the ability to get.

So far as the Presidential candidates are concerned, the choice of the Middle West between Hoover and Smith is beyond question. Mr. Hoover is a son of the Middle West, knows its needs, recognizes its requirements. He is a man of vision who sees the Country whole, and appreciates the necessity for giving the Middle West, as the great producing region, its proper and essential place. Among other things, he proposes to bring the seaboard into the Middle West by way of the Mississippi and by way of the Great Lakes.

Governor Smith, on the other hand, is by birth and breeding an Easterner of the East. Save for a single visit to Chicago, he has never been in the Middle West and does not know its people, its ideas or its needs. The sidewalks of New York mean more to him than the highways by land and water of this great region. He proposes to fasten upon us the commercial sovereignty of the East, to deny us exit by the St. Lawrence, to force us to continue paying tribute to Buffalo and New York.

The control of the Republican leadership, particularly in the Senate, is passing into Western hands. Western Senators head a majority of the great committees. The opportunity is at hand for the Middle West to redress its wrongs at Washington.

This situation cries aloud for efficient support from Minnesota.—Minneapolis Journal.

THERE are now a sufficient number of automobiles in America to permit every man, woman and child in the country to take an auto ride at the same time. And they seem to be doing it.—Stillwater Post-Messenger.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c to-day at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

LAKE ONTARIO'S COLD WATER BLOCKS WRIGLEY SWIM

$35,000 PURSE IS UNCLAIMED AT TORONTO

NOT ONE OF THE CONTESTANTS WAS ABLE TO FINISH THE GRUELLING RACE

GEORGES MICHEL, ROTUND BAKER, SHOWED GREATEST ENDURANCE

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 6.—(UP)—A purse of $35,000, which attracted 250 swimmers to Toronto for the Wrigley 10-mile swim marathon, lay unclaimed today—not one of the contestants being able to withstand the bitterly cold waters of Lake Ontario.

Georges Michel, the rotund French baker, showed the greatest endurance. Hour by hour he over-armed his way through the choppy lake waters, which were estimated to have a temperature of 52 degrees. Shortly after 10 P. M. Michel's arms sagged and his stroke lost its cadence. At 10:17 P. M. he was pulled from the water, benumbed. He had completed 12 and one-half miles.

Today officials were uncertain what was to be done about the purse. They had announced that no prizes would be paid unless the actual 15 miles had been covered.

WESTERN BASEBALL CLUBS WANT N. P. BOYS BACK AGAIN

LOCALS DISPLAY A PLEASING BRAND OF BASEBALL IN RECENT TOUR

BOX SCORES SHOW HOW BRAINERD DEFEATED HELENA THREE TIMES

The Brainerd Northern Pacific Baseball team displayed great baseball on their western tour, playing the brand of ball that pleased the fans and called for demands of another tour next year.

Olson proved to be the iron man of the trip, pitching three full games in three days and winning all of them. He relieved Richmond in the fourth game, thereby working four straight days. Richmond pitched good ball, winning two games. Hanson, Uddenberg and Loom played great defensive games in the field, Hurr filling all requirements behind the bat. His accident in the Billings game was unfortunate as it left him out of the remaining games except the last one. His heavy hitting was greatly missed. Nutting, Loom, Peterson, Olson and Richmond hit well, proving dangerous to the opposing pitchers. Swanson played a good game at the plate and field.

Batting averages of players on the trip follow:

	Ab.	H.	R.	Av.
Loom	23	12	4	.512
Nutting	26	12	7	.461
Olson	24	11	5	.458

Elling	8	2	1	.250
Ringer	12	3	4	.250
Uddenberg	25	6	7	.240
Hanson	26	6	6	.232

The team defeated Helena in the first game by the score of 7 to 4. Olson pitched the second game, winning 16 to 7, and Richmond came back and took the third by the count of 9 to 5. Hurr caught his first game in three days after receiving a badly bruised finger in the Billings game.

LAKE ONTARIO'S COLD WATER BLOCKS WRIGLEY SWIM

$35,000 PURSE IS UNCLAIMED AT TORONTO

NOT ONE OF THE CONTESTANTS WAS ABLE TO FINISH THE GRUELLING RACE

GEORGES MICHEL, ROTUND BAKER, SHOWED GREATEST ENDURANCE

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 6.—(UP)—A purse of $35,000, which attracted 250 swimmers to Toronto for the Wrigley 16-mile swim marathon, lay unclaimed today—not one of the contestants being able to withstand the bitterly cold waters of Lake Ontario.

Georges Michel, the rotund French baker, showed the greatest endurance. Hour by hour he over-armed his way through the choppy lake waters, which were estimated to have a temperature of 52 degrees. Shortly after 10 P. M. Michel's arms sagged and his stroke lost its cadence. At 10:17 P. M. he was pulled from the water, benumbed. He had completed 12 and one-half miles.

Today officials were uncertain what was to be done about the purse. They had announced that no prizes would be paid unless the actual 15 miles had been covered.

Yesterday's Hero—Sad Sam Jones. Washington pitcher, who triumphed over the New York Yankees for the fourth time this season, winning a 3 to 1 decision in the first game of a double-header. The New York Giants trounced the Philadelphia Phillies 14 to 3. Wiloughby and Walsh were found for 22 hits.

The Detroit Tigers won the final game with the Chicago White Sox 19 to 2.

Errors aided the Boston Braves in winning a double-header from the Brooklyn Robins 9 to 2 and 7 to 1. No other games were scheduled.

WESTERN BASEBALL CLUBS WANT N. P. BOYS BACK AGAIN

LOCALS DISPLAY A PLEASING BRAND OF BASEBALL IN RECENT TOUR

BOX SCORES SHOW HOW BRAINERD DEFEATED HELENA THREE TIMES

The Brainerd Northern Pacific Baseball team displayed great baseball on their western tour, playing the brand of ball that pleased the fans and called for demands of another tour next year.

Olson proved to be the iron man of the trip, pitching three full games in three days and winning all of them. He relieved Richmond in the fourth game, thereby working four straight days. Richmond pitched good ball, winning two games. Hanson, Uddenberg and Loom played great defensive games in the field. Hurr filling all requirements behind the bat. His accident in the Billings game was unfortunate as it left him out of the remaining games—except the last one. His heavy hitting was greatly missed. Nutting, Loom, Peterson, Olson and Richmond hit well, proving dangerous to the opposing pitchers. Swanson played a good game at the plate and field. Batting averages of players on the trip follow:

Loom	23	12	4	.512
Nutting	26	12	7	.461

The team defeated Helena in the first game of the series, 10 to 3. Richmond won the first game by the score of 7 to 4. Olson pitched the second game, winning 16 to 7, and Richmond came back and took the third by the count of 9 to 5. Hurr caught his first game in three days after receiving a badly bruised finger in the Billings game. Box scores for the Brainerd-Helena games follow:

FRANCE HAS TEAM HERE SENT STRONGEST

RENE LA COSTE NOT IN SQUAD, RETIRED FROM INTERNATIONAL PLAY

EXHIBITION MATCH BETWEEN HELEN WILLS AND JOHN HENNESSEY

By GEORGE KIRKSEY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Germantown Cricket Club, Philadelphia, Sept. 6.—The American tennis team which so successfully turned back a British invasion last week, meets its greatest task beginning today in the international team matches against France.

France has sent the strongest team possible with the exception of Rene La Coste, who has retired at least temporarily from international play.

A victory by the American team—while hollow in comparison—would go a great way towards easing the defeat in the Davis cup matches in Paris several weeks ago.

The first day's matches will find Jacques Brugnon meeting John Van Ryan in a singles match; Henry Cochet playing George Lott in a singles match and Pierre Landry and Christian Bousset meeting the American doubles team of Junior Coen and John Doe.

One of the chief points of interest today will be an exhibition match between Helen Wills and John Hennessey.

Several weeks ago Miss Wills defeated Fritz Mercur. There was some talk that Mercur, who defeated Tilden this year, had slowed up against the women's champion.

In Hennessey Miss Wills will meet a player of higher ranking, nationally, than Mercur who was rated fifteenth last year.

Philadelphia, Sept. 6.—The international tennis team matches between France and the United States were postponed today until tomorrow due to rain. The matches were to be played on the Germantown Cricket club courts at Mannheim. The committee was to announce later the schedule for Friday and Saturday.

HOW MACHINES INSURE PURITY IN SOFT DRINKS

Local Bottler Tells of Modern Methods Which Prevent Slightest Chance of Contamination

While it seems almost impossible that a product can be manufactured and prepared for the consumer without the touch of human hands, that is literally what happens in the manufacture of Brainerd Springs Beverages, according to J. F. Cibuzar of the Brainerd Bottling Works, Brainerd, in order to insure absolute freedom from chance contamination.

"Back in the old days," said Mr. Cibuzar, "before the invention of modern bottling machinery, the soda man washed his bottles in a tub and filled them with a foot-power machine. He handled each bottle separately. The stopper, something like a rubber valve attached to a loop of heavy wire, hung in the neck of the bottle, and you punched it in to get the drink out. This way of opening gave a popping sound—hence the name, 'soda pop.'

"Today Brainerd Springs Beverages are bottled entirely by machines. Each bottle is sterilized with scalding water and caustic soda, and then thoroughly rinsed with clear, pure water—all in automatic machines. Each is then uniformly filled and sealed air-tight by automatic machines. The seal is a cork and metal crown that holds fast but comes off easily—giving you the drink in all its original purity."

HOW MACHINES INSURE PURITY IN SOFT DRINKS

Local Bottler Tells of Modern Methods Which Prevent Slightest Chance of Contamination

While it seems almost impossible that a product can be manufactured and prepared for the consumer without the touch of human hands, that is literally what happens in the manufacture of Brainerd Springs Beverages, according to J. F. Cibazar of the Brainerd Bottling Works, Brainerd, in order to insure absolute freedom from chance contamination.

"Back in the old days," said Mr. Cibazar, "before the invention of modern bottling machinery, the soda man washed his bottles in a tub and filled them with a foot-power machine. He handled each bottle separately. The stopper, something like a rubber valve attached to a loop of heavy wire, hung in the neck of the bottle, and you punched it in

to get the drink out. This way of opening gave a popping sound—hence the name, 'soda pop.'

"Today Brainerd Springs Beverages are bottled entirely by machines. Each bottle is sterilized with scalding water and caustic soda, and then thoroughly rinsed with clear, pure water—all in automatic machines. Each is then uniformly filled and sealed air-tight by automatic machines. The seal is a cork and metal crown that holds fast but comes off easily—giving you the drink in all its original purity."

Thirty Desks to be Purchased to be Installed in Former Rest Room in City Hall

TEACHER APPOINTMENTS

40 5-6 Mills Set Out in Levy Estimate Submitted to Board by Finance Committee

The Board of Education last evening authorized the purchasing committee to purchase 30 No. 1 school desks to fill the need of additional seating capacity for Brainerd high school students.

The desks are to be received as soon as possible for use in a classroom to be fitted up in the rest room of the city hall building.

The increase in the number of students in the high school this year has necessitated the use of every available space in the city hall and old court house building.

The tax levy estimate of the finance committee was submitted and ordered placed on file. A resolution covering the levy will be made at the October meeting of the board. Changes in the levy from that submitted last evening may take place before the next meeting.

The finance committee statement tendered the board last evening follows:

"At the September meeting of the board each year it is customary to submit an estimate of school expense for the ensuing year.

"The levy for maintenance last year was 40 1/2 mills and present indications are that it should remain the same for this year.

"A levy of 1-3 mills for bond interest should be sufficient.

"This makes a total of 40 5-6 mills or 1-6 mills less than last year.

"After completion of the new building next year it will be again necessary to make close levies based on accurate information on school receipts and disbursements."

The teachers committee reported the following teachers employed since the last meeting: high school, Anna L. Lord, Aletha M. Harwig, Dorothy E. White, Minnie Haug, Osa Hornland; grades, Mayme L. Britton, Clara M. Alsaker, Kathleen Mumm, Winifred B. Noyes, Minnie Lindblom.

Miss Alta Franklin who was a teacher at large last year has been named principal at the Lincoln school this year.

The health and sanitation committee asked that the board consider the purchase of a new car for the city and school nurse. The health committee was empowered to act with a similar committee from the city council in the purchase of a new car with the understanding that half of the cost be met by the city council and half by the school board.

Mrs. Rasch and Mrs. Jones, representatives of the library board appeared before the board requesting financial assistance towards securing additional help at the library.

It was pointed out that the library board is handicapped in the way of finances and without means of employing extra help which necessity was brought about by the loss of the Brainerd high school library and the fact that so many students are taking out reference books from the library. Superintendent Cobb was directed to make a satisfactory arrangement towards giving the library additional help.

The oral report submitted by Superintendent Cobb on the general condition of the schools after two days of operation this season was accepted. Mr. Cobb was requested to embody the verbal report in writing at the next meeting.

The board adjourned to Friday evening, September 8 in the city hall at which time bids will be taken up for the purchase of the Sixth street school lots.

Mr. Croft of Croft and Boerner, architects in the construction of the new high school will be present tomorrow evening and report on the progress of the plans.

The building committee offered the following report on repair work done at various grade school buildings during the vacation season:

Lowell Building

The erection of two sections of additional mass coils to the heating plant at this building has been completed. This no doubt will effect a decided improvement and the heating of the building will be much more satisfactory, especially in cold weather. New traps to the number of six have been added to the mass coil section old traps taken out and when additional traps throughout the building are replaced with new traps, the heating unit in this building will be brought up to standard and will also effect a saving in fuel without any question. The building no doubt now can be heated with a pound pressure of steam, whereas 15 pounds would not do the work in cold weather. The job looks like a good workmanlike piece of work.

Some trouble is being experienced at this building in the destruction of school property, such as lights of glass and playground equipment. A few weeks prior to the opening of school several lights of glass were set and very shortly thereafter five large lights were smashed out by the throwing of good sized stones which were picked up in the school rooms.

Whittier Building

The painting contractors, Quinlan and Weiz have completed their contract in the way of varnishing of all woodwork. Extra work included the painting of the boys toilet room. The work is satisfactory and we would recommend that Quinlan and Weiz be paid for this work.

Some cement work and plastering is under way towards the improving of the fresh air conditions at this building. Cement floor is being laid in the fresh air chamber, in the motor room on the floor at the foot of the stairs leading to the basement to the normal training room and running to the entrance of the girls toilet room. In making these improvements, we have torn out a wooden partition in the fan room and taken up all of the old brick floor, new galvanized door on the fresh air chamber and some plaster work done to make conditions more air tight and not draw foul air into the mass coils from the basement.

Some plumbing work done to the boiler, drinking fountains and one fixture in the boys room is yet to be replaced.

While inspecting conditions relative to improvement of the fresh air line and in tearing out the wooden partition which came close to the motor driving the fan, the workman noted the condition of this motor and reported to chairman of the building committee. We found upon close investigation that this motor was due for new brass rings at once and could not be operated with safety to the motor until such repairs were made. We wired the factory last Saturday and were assured that we would be in receipt of these rings by Sept. the 4th however they have not arrived to date.

Riverside Building

Paint contractors Quinlan & Weiz have completed their contract work at this building, including some extra work. Work is satisfactory and material entering into this job and the one at the Whittier building, evidently has been paid for according to statement attached to their bill submitted at this meeting of the board, and we would recommend that Quinlan & Weiz be paid in full for their work.

Lincoln School

Following the opening of school at this building, trouble loomed up in the way of sewer drainage and the condition is rather bad. Sewers do not appear to be clogged entirely, for water drains away very slowly after recess periods, however during recess periods fixtures overflow in both toilet rooms and several inches of water goes onto the basement floor during each recess time and of course creates a very bad situation. Today the city crew of men under the direction of Engineer Campbell cleaned out the catch basin at the intersection of Oak and Sixth, but this did not improve the condition of sewerage leading from this building. Late this afternoon, we dumped several pails of hot water containing a strong solution of pipe cleaning material and we will watch results tomorrow. If this fails to remedy the situation, there is no other alternative but to proceed to dig. It seems quite probable that the pipe line is clogged either with sand from back water on account of heavy rains or possibly tree roots may be doing the trouble. At any rate we must endeavor to correct this trouble at the earliest possible time as a condition of this sort is very dangerous to the health of people in this building.

ADDITIONAL HEATERS IN NORTHLAND BUSESSE

An additional heater will be installed in approximately 100 Northland buses this fall to assure the comfort of passengers during the winter season. C. E. Wickman, president of the Northland Transportation company, announced today. The present heating equipment is in the front of the buses and the second heater will be placed in the rear.

The heaters used on the Northland buses are the hot water type.

Harrison Building

At the Harrison building no repairs to speak of were needed this year other than a little work in the girls toilet room in the way of doors, and setting of a few lights of glass.

Garfield Building

At the Garfield grounds, the out-buildings have been moved and fixed up somewhat.

In addition to work here mentioned, several items of a small nature have been taken care of at the various buildings.

At the old court house building, the boiler has been placed in good condition by replacing of flues, placing patch on front, new set of fire grates and so on.

A little tin work done to the gutters and down spouts. Water heater greased, shower bath provided and additional radiation as recommended by Architect Croft is being installed.

If you drove a car costing $3,000..you would find the same vital elements of quality

The only Essex point in common with cars in its price field—is price. An examination of our Special Chassis Display will give you some astonishing and impressive comparisons that you will not forget. Essex quality, fine appearance and high manufacturing practice rightly classify it with those costly cars which use the best known fine car methods.

For every important item in Essex construction you must go to these costly cars to find comparison. Like the $3,000 cars Essex uses roller taper bearings. It uses Timken tapered wheel bearings. It uses worm-and-gear type steering.

It uses a hard-rubber steering wheel, with steel core, identical with the wheel used on the highest priced cars. Like the $3,000 cars Essex uses five frame cross members for rigidity. Like them it fully balances all running parts for smooth, long-lasting operation.

The four-wheel brakes used on the Essex Super-Six are the same enclosed and protected type used on costliest cars, and assure the maximum brake safety.

They typify the costly car way Essex is built throughout—and you can verify this detail by detail, inside and out, by comparison first with costly cars—and then with cars in the Essex price class.

Come see the most important part of your Essex and the way it is built in this special chassis display. It will explain why Essex is the largest selling "Six" in the history of the industry.

and the County Agent to place a carload of sheep in Crow Wing county. These are yearling ewes of the finest kind and will cost about $14 per head laid down to Brainerd. Any farmer wishing to secure a good grade of sheep this fall should get in touch with either of the above mentioned at once.

Definite orders must be received not later than the 15th of September. If interested, see County Agent or the Citizens State Bank of Brainerd.

ESSEX 6 Super

If you drove a car costing $3,000..you would find the same vital elements of quality

The only Essex point in common with cars in its price field —is price. An examination of our Special Chassis Display will give you some astonishing and impressive comparisons that you will not forget. Essex quality, fine appearance and high manufacturing practice rightly classify it with those costly cars which use the best known fine car methods.

For every important item in Essex construction you must go to these costly cars to find comparison. Like the $3,000 cars Essex uses roller tappet bearings. It uses Timken tapered wheel bearings. It uses worm-and-gear type steering.

It uses a hard-rubber steering wheel, with steel core, identical with the wheel used on the highest priced cars. Like the $3,000 cars Essex uses five frame cross members for rigidity. Like them it fully balances all running parts for smooth, long-lasting operation.

The four-wheel brakes used on the Essex Super-Six are the same enclosed and protected type used on costliest cars, and assure the maximum brake safety.

They typify the costly car way Essex is built throughout—and you can verify this detail by detail, inside and out, by comparison first with costly cars—and then with cars in the Essex price class.

Come see the most important part of your Essex and the way it is built in this special chassis display. It will explain why Essex is the largest selling "Six" in the history of the industry.

Broadway Love

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

PRETTY Janet Wilde is the daughter of Fenimore Wilde, a Broadway star. He and his son Frank are spendthrifts and Janet has hard times with her creditors, while mothering them both. On the eve of a big opening the actor quarrels with one of his creditors and suffers a slight heart attack. A young and impetuous actor named Gordon Pryor proposes and is accepted by Janet, but in the meantime the girl has attracted the admiration of a young musician of whom Gordon is jealous.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER VI.

ANY day preceding an opening night was always a difficult one in Janet's life, and the one following her engagement to Gordon Pryor was no exception to the rule.

It began badly, for the great actor had passed a bad night, and was down to breakfast a little earlier than usual. Her brother was breakfasting with her father. Suddenly, Janet heard her father's voice booming in the dining room. "I should have thought, sir," Fenimore Wilde was saying with a full blast of temper, "that you would have kept this evening free. I imagine I was a very vain and conceited man to have thought so, and yet most people with the intelligence of a higher-grade rabbit might think that Fenimore Wilde's son would have sufficient interest in his father's work to be willing—nay, anxious, to attend an opening performance."

"I admit the tremendous importance of tonight," Frank answered, "but only to those interested in the theatre. I don't happen to be, and I do happen to have an engagement that is of importance to me."

"Silence!" Fenimore Wilde thundered. "On a morning when I am supposed to conserve all my energies, I will not be disturbed by a low-grade moron who admits that he takes no interest in art! Admits it, mind you, Janet," he swung round on his daughter. "If you feel the same way about it, if you bore me to see me tonight, don't hesitate to say so. I can use the tickets for—"

"Father!" Janet interrupted him cleverly. "Don't be mean! I have been looking forward to it for weeks, and now, just because you want the tickets to give to some friends, you are going to rob me of the greatest pleasure I could have—watching your superb work tonight, and being present at yet another triumph!"

Janet's tact worked like a charm. She snuggled against her father's shoulder, for he had risen from his chair in his anger. Without him seeing her, she signalled to Frank, who made a silent retreat from the room.

Fenimore Wilde's rage melted. "Ah, here is someone who appreciates me! No, child, no! Your old father would not deprive you of your seats tonight. Cheer up! The seats remain for your use. Who is going to take my lovely daughter to see me?"

"Sit down and go on with your breakfast, but no more coffee," Janet humored him. "Gordon Pryor is taking me. You remember him, father? A young actor, one of your greatest admirers. Gordon says that to sit through a performance—just one performance—with Fenimore Wilde in the lead is the greatest theatrical education any young actor could have."

"Gordon Pryor? Of course I remember him," Fenimore Wilde said complacently. "A particularly intelligent and worthwhile young fellow—short and dark— isn't he?"

"Just about," Janet said gently. "Perhaps he's rather over medium height."

"Yes, yes, I know!—as I said—rather medium height."

"And rather blond in coloring," such an admirer of yours."

"Yes, yes, a tall blonde boy! I remember him perfectly. Ask him to supper after the performance, Janet, and let the boy know that Fenimore Wilde is always interested in any young actor who takes his work seriously and shows intelligence."

Janet felt that this was not the moment, or the day, on which to announce her engagement.

"Now Father, try and concentrate on this," she insisted pleasantly. "How many people are coming here to supper? I simply have to know."

"Pray spare me details," he begged her. "If it isn't too much trouble, I should like a mouthful of something to offer the few friends who really love me—just a mouthful. A bit of bread and cheese—anything!"

Janet read him rather the elaborate supper menu which was customary on such occasions.

Leaving him at breakfast, Janet arranged with Elizabeth that there should be supper enough for twelve people.

"He always adds to his list, Elizabeth, and I think if we prepare for twelve, it will be about right. To be on the safe side—and you know what he's like on an opening night—you'd better see to it that there is a cold ham extra, and two cold chickens."

Somehow, Janet got through that day. She saw to it that her father lay down for two hours in the afternoon. She prepared his bath for him, and fed him a very light meal as early as six o'clock. As the servants were busy, she went herself at about a quarter past seven to fetch a taxi and saw him drive away to his theatre. Then she changed rapidly into evening dress.

But Janet was ready for Gordon when he called for her in a cab at 10 minutes past eight. "You look adorable!" Gordon told her devotedly, as they drove uptown. "Did you arrange it for me to have supper after the show?"

"Father remembered you perfectly clearly—a short dark man!" Janet laughed at him. "I told him that you admired him tremendously, but I felt it wiser not to say anything until tomorrow about our engagement."

"I'm glad you told him that," Gordon put in eagerly. "I mean about me admiring him! He could, with his influence, be of the greatest use to me. If only he would speak to John Montague, who, I hear, is casting for a new play!"

"He isn't very keen on that sort of thing," Janet said, a little dubiously. "Still, when the right moment arrives, I will ask him."

"That will be charming of you," Gordon said.

As they got out of the taxi, Janet glanced up at the glaringly white lights that spelt her father's name. She turned, and saw that Gordon was looking up at them, too.

"Fame is a toy, Gordon," she told him again. "It isn't half as wonderful as you think it is—not half as wonderful as love."

They passed inside the house and took their places in the fourth row. Janet turned around to survey the house, and then fixed themselves on the first balcony.

There, sitting in the front row, in the same suit of shabby tweed, was Leonard Quigg, and his eyes caught Janet's glance as he smiled at her.

supper menu which was customary on such occasions.

Leaving him at breakfast, Janet arranged with Elizabeth that there should be supper enough for twelve people.

"He always adds to his list, Elizabeth, and I think if we prepare for twelve, it will be about right. To be on the safe side—and you know what he's like on an opening night—you'd better see to it that there is a cold ham extra, and two cold chickens."

Somehow, Janet got through that day. She saw to it that her father lay down for two hours in the afternoon. She prepared his bath for him, and fed him a very light meal as early as six o'clock. As the servants were busy, she went herself at about a quarter past seven to fetch a taxicab and saw him drive away to his theatre. Then she changed rapidly into evening dress.

But Janet was ready for Gordon when he called for her in a cab at 10 minutes past eight. "You look adorable!" Gordon told her devotedly, as they drove uptown. "Did you arrange it for me to have supper after the show?"

"Father remembered you perfectly clearly—a short dark man!" Janet laughed at him. "I told him that you admired him tremendously, but I felt it wiser not to say anything until tomorrow about our engagement."

"I'm glad you told him that," Gordon put in eagerly. "I mean about me admiring him! He could, with his influence, be of the greatest use to me. If only he would speak to John Montague, who, I hear, is casting for a new play!"

"He isn't very keen on that sort of thing," Janet said, a little dubi-ously. "Still, when the right moment arrives, I will ask him."

"That will be charming of you,"

Gordon said.

As they got out of the taxi, Janet glanced up at the glaringly white lights that spelt her father's name.

She turned, and saw that Gordon was looking up at them, too.

"Fame is a toy, Gordon," she told him again. "I'm not half as wonderful as you think it is—not half as wonderful as love."

They passed inside the house and took their places in the fourth row. Janet turned around to survey the house. Her eyes swept the back rows, and then fixed themselves on the first balcony.

There, sitting in the front row,

in the same suit of shabby tweed, was Leonard Quigg, and his eyes caught Janet's glance as he smiled at her.

She Gained Weight With McCoy's Tablets

You remember her, of course—not so long ago she was a regular scarecrow—skinny is a mild word for the way she looked.

Just look at her now—if ever a woman had a perfect figure she has it—she is the envy of half the girls in town.

It's nothing to get excited about—all she did was to take on weight—filled out the hollows in face, neck and chest—any skinny, weak, run down woman can do the same and gain a clean, clear complexion at the same time.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 15 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—Just ask for McCoy's Tablets at H. P. Dunn's, Johnson's Pharmacy or any drug store in America. —Adv.
